We've had another great week of training with a solid workout based on goal times that you personally set. So proud to see the kid take ownership of their training and get after it in the workout. You have all worked so hard physically and are mentally prepared for a great race. The early fall scenery will make for a great backdrop at LeRoy Oakes and there will be a lot of great teams to compete against. LeRoy is one of my favorite courses, and it will provide some terrain challenges that we're ready for.

You have all come a long way so far this season, and we still have some of the biggest races to go.

Run smart, run strong, run fast, and run happy!
