The theme of this year's race is The Human Race, in an effort to emphasize how we are all part of one collective community of humanity. We are focusing in on one particular ethnic group, the Rohingya in Myanmar, who have been persecuted by their government, where roughly one million have been displaced to refugee camps in Bangladesh in order to escape the genocidal actions of Myanmar's military. We are selling shirts for $15, and $5 from the purchase of each shirt goes to BRAC, which is actively working to alleviate the acute struggles of the Rohingya refugees in their Bangladeshi camps. Water and baked goods will also be available for $1 each with proceeds benefiting the same organization.

This meet is one last opportunity to push yourself and tune up for the conference meet. Let's make sure to hit the reset button after Wednesday's Twilight Invite and get ready for another race this weekend. It's great course and a good opportunity to finalize a racing strategy before conference.

Run Happy!
